

FROM THE DESK OF THE INTERNATIONAL PRESIDENT

Since my last Dental World article, the Pierre Fauchard Academy's Board of Trustees concluded another productive Board Meeting. It is a real pleasure to serve on a Board that has such hard working, intelligent, and dedicated Trustees. The meeting was held in Rockville, Maryland. Placing our International Headquarters in Rockville has been a very wise investment for the Academy. Using our International Headquarters for events turns out to be very cost effective. Our next scheduled Board Meeting will take place in October, in Orlando.

Following our Board Meeting, the PFA Leadership Foundation held a Section Chair Training session. Several Section Chairs from throughout the country attended. Our Continuing Education Committee will be working to refine and expand this training to make it even more effective. I look forward to these updated training sessions in the future.

I am pleased to announce that the Academy's new website will soon be operational. There are only a few updates to be completed before it will be launched. Hopefully, this will occur in July. I have looked at the new website on its temporary host server, and I am very impressed. It will be more streamlined and user friendly than our current site. Upon login, the site will know if the person is a Fellow, Section Chair, or Trustee, and will provide relevant information for that person. I believe our Fellows will find it to be a great upgrade and member benefit.

Another new member benefit that our Fellows will soon be receiving is an electronic newsletter. It will keep our Fellows updated on the activities of the Academy. The PFA is growing in numbers and prestige. Our Fellows need to know about this growth and take pride in it. Hopefully, this pride will inspire our Fellows to share the PFA experience with their dental colleagues and nominate them for Fellowship.

Speaking of nominating new Fellows, our Board of Trustees and Officers have streamlined the Candidate Nomination Process. A Fellow need only log onto our website at fauchard.org and fill out and submit a Candidate Nomination Form. This form basically consists of the candidate's contact information. PFA Headquarters will take it from there. Our Executive Director will then send the candidate a packet with a letter congratulating the candidate on nomination, the Fellowship Application, a request for a CV, and information on the PFA and the Induction process. Once the candidate has filled out the required information and returned it to our International Headquarters, the Executive Director will submit the candidate's information to the appropriate Section Chair for review. Simple and painless! We believe that increased ease of nominations will lead to increased nominations, without decreasing the quality of the nominees. Therefore, I challenge every Fellow to nominate at least one qualified dental colleague for Fellowship before the end of the year.

Last, but certainly not least, we are all looking forward to the PFA Gala in Orlando, Florida on Saturday, October 7, 2023. The gala is held in conjunction with the American Dental Association's Annual Meeting. We will be honoring our award winners, inducting new Fellows, and installing our PFA Officers. It is an opportunity to meet your Trustees, Officers and other PFA Fellows from throughout the world. We will also be welcoming several new Fellows into our Academy. Last year's Gala was a huge success, and we are expecting this year's to be even bigger and better. I hope to see many of you there to share in the fun and fellowship!

Sincerely submitted in Fellowship,

—DR. HAL E. HALE, D.D.S.

Dr. Armyl Bañez

Developing Leaders

In our 87-year history, the Pierre Fauchard Academy (PFA) has established and honed leaders who have contributed not only to the development of the organization but also to the progress of dentistry worldwide. This achievement remains aligned with our commitment, as Fellows, “to recognize and develop outstanding leadership in our profession, internationally.” The question is: How do we sustain this? Developing leaders and honing one’s leadership skills doesn’t happen straight away. One needs discipline, trust, reputation, and expertise (among other traits) to be able to become a great leader – one who can inspire and build other leaders along the way.

Within the PFA, we regularly hold alignment meetings and spearhead activities for knowledge-sharing and for expanding our networks. We also have our annual awards, including Fellowship, Hall of Fame, and other Special Awards. All of these form part of our goal to be “a superior, quality, international dental honorary organization, with the most outstanding dentists in every country in the world.”

There is a crucial need to create future leaders in our profession, this will maintain the growth momentum of the Academy. Let’s create more opportunities for our Fellows to get out there and learn more about what needs to be addressed and what needs to be introduced – from innovations and programs to community and social responsibility initiatives.

As we are now in the post-pandemic world, may we all be determined to advance our profession and inspire future leaders to take the initiative of improving and changing the landscape of dentistry across different parts of the world. This will benefit more people and the generations to come. Let’s get to know other members. Let’s conduct training sessions. Let’s explore ideas on PFA and dentistry and develop them into something with concrete results.

This is the very reason PFA aims to “encourage dental students and foster advancement of their professional and scientific standards and encourage continuing education for all members of the dental profession.” This is supported by the Academy’s objective of encouraging “Fellowship among the membership and emphasize understanding of our professional responsibility to the public.”

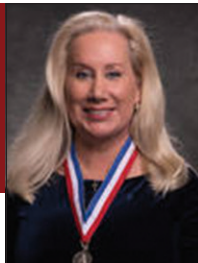

For this year and the coming years, may we all create an environment and culture wherein we will further promote learning and development within the Academy with the goal of creating dental leaders, today and tomorrow.

Sincerely,

—DR. ARMYL BAÑEZ

Greetings from the International Headquarters.

This has been an exciting year! More than twenty-five Section Meetings have been held in the last few months. Congratulations to our new Fellows and thank you to the many PFA Section Chairs who worked tirelessly to plan and conduct these important events.

We are now getting ready for our signature event: the 85th annual PFA

Meeting and Black-Tie Gala. The 2023 Gala will take place in Orlando, Florida (USA), on October 7. We will begin at 6 pm with drinks and appetizers, continue with the induction of our new Fellows, have a lovely dinner, present our international awards, and end the evening with dancing. I look forward to seeing many of you there. More details and registration will be available on the PFA website.

We expect approximately 300 guests at the Gala this year and we will be inducting over 50 new Fellows. If you have a colleague who you wish to nominate for Fellowship, this is an ideal time to do so. Please go to the PFA website and nominate someone for Fellowship! Our goal is to identify and honor the current leaders in dentistry and also identify the new, potential leaders in the profession. Our online programs are designed to help these leaders to continue their professional development and become even better.

Speaking of the website, the International Office is updating our software to the Association Management System - MemberClicks. This AMS software will coordinate with our new website to provide you with easier access to the information you need. When you want to log in to the new website, you will be required to create a new password. Since passwords are protected in our system, we have no access, and therefore no method to transfer your old password to the new system. Please take a moment to go to www.fauchard.org and log in to update your password and any other contact information.

By now you should have received the new PFA Newsletter – PFA Connect. This bi-annual newsletter will keep you updated on the PFA events happening around the world, and also give you a glimpse of some of our outstanding PFA Fellows and Sections. Please send me your updates and highlights to be included in future editions of the newsletter.

In closing, I want to thank you for the privilege of representing this outstanding organization. As I approach the end of my second year at the PFA, I am continually impressed with the PFA
